PROBLEM

1+ billion people don't get professional help while struggling with mental health problems.

The PROBLEM
is more severe
than you think.
After COVID-19 crisis
the biggest post-WW2
economic crisis is emerging to our doors
together with the biggest mental health crisis in the modern history.

1) Because of COVID-19 there is a bigger than ever demand for mental health.

2) We don't want to meet people in person so much any more after COVID19.

3) We overslept the digital revolution of mental health as a society.
